There's nothing certain about 1908 except death and taxes.

We have no objection to spelling it kist if the girl is willing.

Lynching is murder under the law, but, then, the other crime is worse than murder

Alton B. Parker has, after all, been elected President—of the American Bar Association.

It does seem that the Raleigh News and Observer is giving the State Republican chairman Adamsite more prominence than he deserves.

If Mr. Rockefeller is sincere in his wish to "get in touch with the common people" let him reduce the price of kerosene to five cents a gallon.

One obscure newspaper "up North" has adopted the deformed style of orthography. But this is merely to advertise itself. If is a case of spellin fur revenu.

One of the acting superintendents of public schools in New York city indorses the Carnegie-Rooosevelt style of spelling. Unfortunately for him, however, his name is Shallow.

One of our contemporaries suggests that the next step of our versatile President will be to reform the weather. He has already "boxed the compass" on the tariff and is an expert in casting an anchor to windward.

As it would be very difficult to move the cruiser North Carolina from Newport News before the machinery has been placed in her hull we guess that brilliant Raleigh suggestion that she be christened at Wilmington has been abandoned.

Will Wilmington ever have a Board of Aldermen that will take up the question of a public park and push it to a successful conclusion? Why not advertise for a donation of ten to twenty acres of land contiguous to the city for park purposes? Very likely one or more responses would be received.

If the Democrats wish to make a winning fight in the present and futue campaigns they must make the tariff the leading issue. They want no talk about a "robber tariff", "free trade", or even a "tariff for revenue only." What the overwhelming majority of the people of this country want is a thorough revision of the tariff; and they can look only to the Democratic party to do that work. From Roosevelt down the Republican leaders are "stand-patters."

ALDERMEN TO-NIGHT

Postponed Regular Meeting of the Board Promises Some Interesting Things.

WATER COMMISSION REPORT

Municipal Ownership Propositon Again—Likely to be Squabble Over New Railroad Yards on Which Work is Being Pushed.

The postponed regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held to-night at the usual hour and the session promises to be an unusually lengthy one. Not only is the report of the Water Commission to be received and future action in the municipal ownership proposition to be determined, but there is likely to develop a fight over a petition of Mr. George H. Hutaff, asking that the Coast Line be prohibited from proceeding further with its terminals in the northeastern section of the city, which, with various other matters will require several hours consideration in addition to the usual heavy amount of routine business.

Five members of the Board of Aldermen yesterday visited the construction work on the new terminals and were much impressed with the arrangements that are being made to provide the business interests of Wilmington with the very best shipping facilites on the Atlantic Coast. It is not believed that the Board, if it can see its way clear to do so within the limit of the law, will place the least handicap upon the company in the building of these terminals. Fifty convicts have been at work on the grading for a month or more and yesterday an additional 103 arrived from the State penitentiary at Raleigh. These will be used in pushing the work to as an early completion as possible. In rebuttal of the petition of Mr. Hutaff asking that the work he stopped will be another from the business men on the wharf, asking that the railroad company be in no way hindered in its purpose to build the freight yards. The company claims the property upon which it is building and in spite of the fact that the streets on the premises are laid out on the city map, the railroad company sets up that it acquired the property by purchase and the only way the municipality can secure the streets will be to open them under condemnation proceedings, paying the value of the property thus condemned.

The ordinance regulating the street car traffic at Front and Princess streets is expected to be another fruitful source of harangue and all told, the meeting will be a lively one, lasting perhaps until the midnight hour or beyond.

Disorder Among Negro Excursionists.

In both Justice Furlong's and Justice Bornemann's courts yesterday there were cases of disorder and carrying concealed weapons among the negroes who celebrated Labor Day at Carolina Beach on Monday. In the absence of witnesses, however, all the cases were continued until to-day. One of the negroes is charged with firing a pistol on the train as it was coming over, loaded with excursionists, to the pier. The management of the excursion is backing up the prosecution and will see that all the guilty ones are punished.

Mrs. Polly Land Dead.

Mrs. Polly Land, of No. 40. Smith street, died Monday night at the age of 78 years after an illness of some time. She is survived by a son, Mr. W. B. Land, of this city. The funeral was conducted at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence by Rev. W. L. Rexford, of Market Street M. E. church, and the interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

NEW COTTON SEASON

Year Just Ended About 40,000 Bales Short In Common With All Southern Ports—Arangements For the Approaching Crop.

September 1st., ended the cotton year at all the ports. At Wilmington for the season just ended the receipts were 327,366 bales against 367,268 bales the previous year, a falling off of about 40,000 bales. This falling off is not peculiar to Wilmington, however, and does not show that the local exporters are any the less enterprising in reaching out for the staple in all this territory. The crop was simply short and all Southern ports showed a falling off in a corresponding ratio. Nearly all this cotton was exported direct from Wilmington to the foreign markets, only 4,339 bales having been for domestic export against 5,129 bales last year. About 6,000 bales were taken by the factories and other enterprises here.

The new cotton season opens full of bright promise for Wilmington. Substantial improvements and enlargements have been made at the giant compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, including an extension of the wharves so that vessels of the greatest length may lie at ease in the berths, and a small army of enterprising buyers are being dispatched to all the important markets in the Carolinas and Georgia to look after the interests of their house. Several steamers have been chartered and will soon begin arriving for cargoes. It is understood that many new pieces of machinery have been installed in the compresses and that Messrs. Sprunt & Son will be better than ever able to take care of the movement, which will begin in earnest about the middle of this month. Thus far not a single bale of the new crop has been marketed here, though several have been sold up the State where the crop is always earlier.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT.

Miss Bertha Wrede the Bride of Mr. Jno. G. Kuhlken.

At the home of the bride, No. 403 North Seventh street, last night at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, performed a beautiful ceremony which joined in marriage Miss Bertha Wrede, the attractive young daughter of Mr. John Wrede, and Mr. Jno. G. Kuhlken, one of Wilmington's most popular young German citizens. A large number of friends of the young people were present and the home was very attractively decorated for the occasion. Miss Katie Behrends was maid of honor and Miss Meta Brunjes, bridesmaid. Mr. F. K. J. Fuchs was best man while Messrs. Martin Rathjen, Jr., and Mr. Herman Wrede were the groomsmen. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Henry Wrede. Following the wedding an elaborate reception was given at which an elegant supper was served. Among the toasts to the bride and groom were happy responses by Alderman Martin Rathjen, Messrs. Martin Rathjen, Jr., and Messrs. Herman and Henry Wrede.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlken will make their home at corner of Sixth and Bladen streets. They have a great many friends in Wilmington who will extend felicitations upon their happy union.

MR. S. A. BREWER DEAD.

Pased Away at an Early Hour This Morning of Paralysis.

Many friends in this city will hear with sincere regret of the death of Mr. S. A. Brewer, which occurred this morning at 1:25 o'clock at his home in this city, No. 511 North Seventh street, after an illness of four weeks following a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Brewer was born in Nashville, N. C., and was in the 56th year of his age. For more than 20 years he was in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line and was held in the highest esteem by all in the circle of his acquaintance. Mr. Brewer is survived by his wife and four children, who have the sincere sympathy of all in their deep bereavement. The children are Mr. J. P. Brewer and Misses Minda, Addie and Otis Brewer.

The remains of Mr. Brewer will be taken on the 6:50 P. M. train this evening to Wilson, N. C., for interment.

COUNTY TAX BOOKS

Received Formally By Commissioners Yesterday and Turned Over to Sheriff

REGULAR MEETING OF BOARD

Taxable Values Increased About $400,000—Eagles Petition For Carnival Privilege—Smallpox Claim From Sampson Referred.

Yesterday afternoon's regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, which was postponed from Monday on account of the Labor Day holiday, was not especially important, except for the acceptance of the tax books for the coming fiscal year and their formal transfer to Sheriff Stedman for collection.

The Board met at 3 o'clock, Chairman McEachern and Commissioners Vollers, Alexander and Divine in attendance. The usual routine business was a large part of the proceedings of the meeting. The Superintendent of Health reported four cases of diphtheria and one of typhus fever in the county during August. All the county institutions were reported in good sanitary condition especially in view of the constant wet weather. Ninety-one patients were treated in the office during the month and 11 were visited at their homes. The Register of Deeds reported $29.45 as revenue from marriage licenses during the month.

President L. B. Rogers, of the Merchants' Association, presented the claims of the proposed New Hanover exhibit at the State Fair. Upon motion of Commissioner Divine, an appropriation of $100 was made toward bearing the expense of the enterprise.

Bill of Attorney T. W. Simmons, of Sampson county, asking for $208.50 damage to clients by reason of spread of smallpox from patient from New Hanover, was referred to the Chairman and County Attorney with power to act. The chairman stated that he was clearly of the opinion the county is not liable. The bill of Attorney Simmons is itemized and is for loss of time by the patients.

G. Herbert Smith appeared before the Board and asked that the matter of the Greenville Sound road be reopened. A motion prevailed, referring the matter back to the original committee.

It was ordered by the Board that persons who have failed to list taxes and delinquents be allowed to do so by listing and paying the sheriff by October 1st.

The application of the Morris Distilling Company to retail spirituous liquors at No. 6, South Front street, was referred to the chairman with power to act.

An appropriation of $60 was made for strawing the Federal Point road.

Petition of Carolina Aerie of Eagles for exemption of tax on attractions for proposed carnival at Fourth and Brunswick, Bladen and Harnett streets during the month of October or November, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Bid of Jno. S. McEachern Co., for feed for the county live stock was accepted. Commissioner Divine suggested that there seemed to be an agreement between the bidders by which the contract was rotated succeeding months. It was stated there was no way of avoiding the combination of bidders.

It was stated that a representative of the Pauley Jail Co., was expected to submit a bid at the meeting for the enlargement of the county jail but for some reason he had not appeared. The chairman stated that he would convene the entire Board to consider the matter when the representative came.

It was ordered that the tax books for 1906 as presented by County Tax Lister Williams be received and turned over to the sheriff for collection. It was decided to hold a later meeting of the Board to go over the books and make a critical examination with the special view of seeing that all stocks, bonds and securities are properly listed. The books show an increase of about $400,000 in taxable values over last year, of which about $280,000 is in real estate. Next year there will be an entirely new assessment and the increase will be very much greater.

There are 2,623 white and 1,404 negro polls listed, making a total of 4,030 with three on the delinquent list. The number of acres of land is 75,958 1-4 listed by whites, valued at $915,761 while 12,301 1-4 acres, valued at $64,850 are listed by negroes. The value of town lots listed by whites is $6,144,450 and by colored, $407,055. Total, $6,551,505. Only two dogs are listed in the county and only 82 bicycles are given in for taxation, 47 by whites and 35 by negroes. Solvent credits listed by whites amount to $559,188; by colored, $2,243. Only $66,826 is given in as money on hand, all by white tax payers. The value of brandy and whiskey given in for taxation is $28,975, all by whites. The value of real and personal property by whites is $9,251,893; by negroes, $513,876. Total, $9,765,769. The tax on incomes in the county, the largest amount in the State, is $2,914.41.

The total State tax is $27,813.56; school, $29,473.60; county tax, $44,572.40. Total, $99,859.56.

The report from the Corporation Commission values water works, express, telegraph, telephone, railroads and other public corporations at $1,096,613; corporation excess, $403,772; bank stock, $639,112.

The report of Road Superintendent Woolard stated that work had seriously been interfered with by rain but 41 car loads of rock had been received from Columbia, S. C., and two from Castle Haynes.

Supt. F. A. Montgomery reported 22 inmates during the month, six whites and 15 colored. There were 10 convicts, eight females and two males.

The Board adjourned subject to call of the chairman.

STEAMBOAT HEARING

Owners of C. W. Lyon Before Inspectors Upon Complaint of Marine Engineers' Association—Law Requires Two Crews.

An interesting hearing took place in this city yesterday before United States Steamboat Inspectors F. B. Rice and Jno. T. Borden, sitting as a District Court in the Custom House. It was a complaint of the Marine Engineers' Association of Wilmington, against The Tar Heel Steamboat Company, owners of the Cape Fear steamboat C. W. Lyon, that in the operation of the boat between this city and Fayetteville, the law as prescribed by the Department of Commerce and Labor had been violated in that the steamer was operated 24 hours in a day without two crews and two licensed engineers, as required. The law says that where a steamer is operated more than 12 hours continuously for more than 12 hours there shall be a relief engineer and a relief crew, upon the same principle that certain railways are not allowed to work their employes more than a certain number of hours per day for the public safety.

W. P. Gafford, Esq., appeared at the hearing yesterday as attorney for the Engineers' Association. The other side was represented by Mr. S. M. King, the steamer's agent in Wilmington; Sheriff C. W. Lyon, of Bladen, one of the large stockholders for whom the steamer is named; Capt. Jeff Bradshaw, Engineer Jones, of the steamer and others. The hearing lasted from 12 o'clock until after 1 P. M., during which a number of witnesses were heard, the chief one for the government having been Mr. John Chambers, of the Engineers' Association, who says that he made a trip to Fayetteville on the boat in behalf of the Association to see if it was being operated according to law. He said that the trip required 23 hours with 28 stops of an average of 20 minutes each and that there was but one licensed engineer aboard and when he retired from the room at 1 A. M., on the trip up the river, the engine was left in charge of the firemen and oilers.

After hearing all the evidence in the case, the Inspectors announced that they would make their decision later. It is understood that the penalty may either take the form of a fine on the boat company or a fine on the engineer thus operating a boat without the assistance of a relief.

AUDIT AND FINANCE

Regular Monthly Meeting of the City Board Was Held Last Night

SESSION WAS VERY SHORT

More Money Needed to Tide Treasury Over Summer Months—Will Complete Red Cross Street Macadam—Pest House Guard.

The Board of Audit and Finance of the city was in session only a short time last night and very little business of importance was transacted. On account of the postponed meeting of the Board of Aldermen until to-night there were few matters for concurrence and all was plain sailing for a greater part of the brief session. Those present were Mr. C. W. Yates, acting chairman in the absence of Mr. McQueen; Mr. Brady and Mr. McNair.

The tax on bill posters and bill distributors, consideration of which has been going back and forth between the two Boards for several months, was finally concurred in at $50 for distributors and $100 per year on posters.

The monthly statement of the City Clerk and Treasurer was submitted and approved. The clerk called attention to the fact that a balance of only $1,100 was shown on hand with the current expenses and pay rolls of the city to meet the following week. The loan of $40,000 negotiated a few month ago to tide the city over the Summer months until tax gathering time, the clerk explained had been exhausted and the Board would have to authorize a further loan of $5,000 to $10,000 or the bills of the city would have to go unpaid. It was further explained that the bills for street material and curbing had been quite heavy of late whereas last year these bills had not been coming in until later. It was finally agreed to wait for the Aldermen to take action to-night and leave the matter of concurrence with the chairman of the Audit and Finance Board.

The former non-concurrence was reconsidered and it was agreed to allow $3,000 for rock quarry material to complete the Red Cross street paving to the hospital provided $2,000 of the amount come from the quarantine fund and the remaining $1,000 come out of any funds that are left after the budget for the fiscal year is met. The Board of Aldermen originally asked for 8,000 tons to complete the work to the cemetery at a cost of something like $16,000.

Alderman Karr appeared and asked that B. F. Turlington be allowed 50 cents per day from the first of September to look after the city property out at the pest house. The Board reconsidered its former action and allowed the amount.

The usual bills for current expenses were audited and approved after which the Board adjourned with the understanding that a called meeting be held Thursday or Friday night of this week to consider any matters that may come over from the Board of Aldermen.

THE FAYETTEVILLE RACES.

"Riverside," Owned by W. H. McEachern Won Pacing Race.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer has the following:

"Rain fell on the second heats of the races yesterday, but the drivers set their teeth and sailed through the mud and water in good time, considering the heavy track.

"The trotting race was won by 'Dillon,' driven by Marvin. First heat was driven in 2:35, and the other in 2:33 3-5.

"'Robert Macco,' driven by Culbreth, was a close second.

The pacing race had four entries, and was won by 'Riverside,' driven by his owner, Mr. McEachern, in the second heat. Time of first heat was 2:46; second heat in the rain was 2:53 2-5.

"'Spot,' driven by owner, McLaurin, was second, and 'The King,' driven by Fields, was third. 'Bessie,' driven by Marvin, was withdrawn after the first heat on account of cold feet.

Case Amicably Settled.

The recent affray between Messrs. T. N. Simmons and B. F. Swann, resulting from a political argument, was dismissed in Justice Furlong's court yesterday, Mr. Swann, the prosecutor, having withdrawn the warrant against Mr. Simmons in the interest of harmony.

BRYAN'S POPULARITY.

The following editorial appeared in the New York Herald the day after Mr. Bryan's arrival in that city, but before the delivery of his Madison Square Garden speech. The next issue of the Herald took issue with Mr. Bryan on the question of government ownership of railroads. Still, the article below is a very correct statement of the sources of the Nebraskan's popularity and will be read with interest. The Herald says:

Referring not merely to his formal reception in this city, but to the sentiments expressed through the newspapers of the country, it may be said that the welcome to William J. Bryan is unprecedented.

When he went abroad his departure was scarcely noticed. He had been honored twice with the nomination of his party for the Presidency, bnt had twice been defeated with the aid of the votes of democrats who believed that the fifty cent silver dollar he advocated would mean repudiation and disaster.

And yet this man, identified with political defeat at home, and who went abroad merely as a private citizen, is received with a demonstration akin to the "triumph" with which Rome of old met a returning victorious general. It os certainly a curious phenomenon, but after all it is susceptible of a simple explanation.

In the first place, the so-called "extreme radicalism" of Mr. Bryan ten years ago and again six years ago was not repulsive to a vast number of his fellow countrymen, as was shown by the vote cast for him, and but for the inclusion of the free silver plank in his platform the "radical" programme outlined might not have prevented his election in either of those campaigns. Republicans as well as the Democrats who repudiated his platform, however, admired Mr. Bryan's ability, sincerity and disinterestedness.

"The personal liking of Democrats for the man was increased when in the last Presidential convention he cheerfully yielded to what leaders said was demanded by the best interests of the party—that he should step aside in favor of a conservative candidate. During his travels abroad his popularity has wonderfully increased. Foreign observers say that the honors paid to him by the great ones of the earth have flattered the vanity of his countrymen, but this is not quite true. The fact is that his countrymen have been pleased to see a plain American, by his intelligence and personal bearing no less than by his eloquence, carry him through all occasions with dignity and present to the world a fine type of American citizenship, recalling the sturdy figure of Benjamin Franklin among the courtiers of England and France.

"While the rising tide of Mr. Bryan's popularity was assisted by his travels abroad it has been further assisted by events at home. Projects for the control of railway and other corporations, which were denounced as 'radical' when he advocated them, have been taken up and made effective by the Republicans, thus justifying that part of his programme and making him—aside from the silver issue now dead—appear as a conservative. He is made to appear still more conservative by the rise of a faction which propagates a radicalism which would replace Democratic principles with the doctrines of socialism, whereas Mr. Bryan is an ardent advocate of the individualism that has placed this country in the forefront of the world's progress.

"It is not surprising that the Democracy of so many States has at this early day indorsed him for the Presidency. He is the natural Democratic candidate. Theodore Roosevelt appears to be the only Republican competent to oppose him, and—despite his mistaken 'third term' views—will be compelled to accept a renomination. As events are now shaping the contest next year will be between Bryan and Roosevelt."

But, independent of the Herald's tribute to the popularity of Mr. Bryan, the last paragraph of the article quoted is both striking and suggestive. What does the Herald mean when it says Roosevelt appears to be the only Republican competent to oppose Bryan? Does it use the word "competent" in the sense of available? Does it really think Roosevelt is the only man who can defeat Bryan for the Presidency? If so, Bryan will be the next President of the United States, according to the Herald unless Roosevelt is 'compelled to accept a renomination."

The New York Herald stands high as a political forecaster, and if we accept its judgment in this case the Republican party must be in desperate straits. Is it possible, after all its boasts, it has but one leader who can save it from irretrievable disaster? Where is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the big gun of the Middle West? Where is that physical and intellectual giant Secretary-of-War Taft? Where is the cold and clammy Fairbanks, of the Hoosier State? Last, but not least, where is Secretary-of-State Root whom Roosevelt has pronounced the ablest man in public life in the world?

If the Herald forecast as to candidates should materialize there will be a battle royal in 1908—one compared with which the contest between Roosevelt and Parker in 1904, sinks into utter insignificance.

General Frederick D. Grant adds his testimony to that of a great majority of the officers in our army in favor of a restoration of the canteen, where beer and light wines can be sold to the enlisted men under the supervision of their officers. He was asked point blank if he did not think that a better report would have been obtained from the camp at Mount Gretna, Penn., had there been a canteen there. He said in reply: "In my mind there is no doubt that a post exchange greatly improves any post or encampment." He believed that the absence of the canteen caused the death of two men who had gone outside the camp to obtain liquor. General Grant declared: "Whiskey is at the bottom of most of the troubles in the army, and I am convinced that a re-establishment of the canteen would improve conditions wonderfully." The fact that General Grant is himself a total abstainer gives added force to his statement.

The Chattanooga News (Dem.) says: "Delegates from every state in the union will meet in Des Moines next month to consider means for securing a popular vote for election of United States Senator. The natural way to make the change is by submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution. Such an amendment must be submitted by a resolution of Congress. For several years the House of Representatives has annually passed such a resolution and each year the Senate as resolutely refuses to allow the people to decide how they want their Senators elected. That there should be occasion for such a thing as the proposed Des Moines conference is the worst indictment of the United States Senate for failure to represent popular sentiment that can be offered."

SCHEMES OF THIEVES

TRICKS OF THOSE WHO OPERATE IN JEWELRY STORES.

The Way One Place Was Completely Cleaned Out—How Show Windows Are Broken—Getting a Safe That Was Bolted to the Flooring.

A number of jewelers were dining together and with the cigars the talk turned on jewelry thieves and their methods.

The first story was told of an individual who was seen lounging about the plate front window of a jewelry store. No particular attention was paid to the man at the time, but the clerks recalled the incident after the robbery. In this instance the man appeared a number of times in front of the store. One evening soon after dark there was a sudden crash, and a robber was actively engaged in scooping in jewels with a hooked stick. In thirty seconds he was done and away. Bystanders stood as if petrified until the man struck out at a run. Then the store people and the bystanders realized what had occurred and shouting "Thief!" started after the man.

The man dropped his bag. The pursuers stopped and seized the bag. They returned to the store with the bag in high glee, remarking incidentally that there was no need in chasing the thief because here were the goods. The proprietor of the store and all the clerks had followed, but, having farther to go than the crowd, were behind and were met by the people with the bag. Proudly the bag was opened. It contained a brick. The thief had dropped it to check the pursuit. Realizing the trick had succeeded, the crowd, headed by the salesmen and proprietor, went back to the store, only to discover that the window had been cleaned of stock and the counters were bare of a number of costly articles.

A policeman on duty said that after the proprietor and clerks of the store ran for the departing thief a neatly dressed gentleman, with all the airs of a member of the firm, gave directions to two other men to get the stuff out of the windows and told him (the officer) that this was being done as a precaution against theft while the window was broken. In some first class stores there is a regular danger signal arranged, and the men are drilled each week. When the danger gong sounds one man takes his place at the door, another at the telephone to send word to the police, another with running qualities makes for the door in readiness to pursue, and so on.

Among other stories told were some relating to the tricks and devices of the jewelry thieves. The robber often works at night or sometimes during a crowd by cutting out a disk of glass near where some costly goods are shown. He may reach in and secure something and be off before detected if he is quick. Sometimes he has a long instrument hidden under his coat, so that he can reach in and pick up a watch. Often again he uses a simple stick with a slightly turned end, hooking into a ring.

The process of crushing in a plate front during the intervals of the patrol of the police, at the same time making no noise, is done by pasting cloth or heavy paper on the glass. A wood mallet is used, the hammer ends being securely bound up in a heavy woolen fabric stuffed with excelsior or kindred material. With this soft headed mallet it is possible to bang away noiselessly at the glass until the pane begins to crumble. Unless the plate is usually thick an opening can be made without much trouble.

In recent years jewelry thieves, like bank robbers, have rented quarters near the place they intended to rob and lived there long enough to study the situation. In one case a room was hired over a jewelry store and entrance effected to the store by means of a rope ladder dropped from the window of the room to a window leading to a hall in the store portion. In another case the bar spreader was used to open the bars of a window. This device consists of a spirally threaded shaft fitted into two blocks, with a central piece with a bar for turning. The blocks are adjusted between two bars, the central piece turned, whereupon the spiral shaft causes the blocks to expand sidewise, forcing the bars open. Then the intruder can pass in.

A story was told of the removal of a safe in which the proprietor of a jewelry store was accustomed to put his costly stock each night. It was not a large safe, but exceedingly strong, and because of its light weight a number of bolts were put through the floor and connected with the safe bottom. The proprietor often said that thieves could not take the safe unless they took floor and all. Not long after the store was entered, and, behold, the thieves had sawed out the section of the floor to which the safe was fixed. The safe was bound up with rope, the latter passed under the separated section of flooring, and, when the boards were sawed through, safe, floor and all were lowered into the basement and readily moved out through the basement door, put into an express wagon and carted off.—Jewelers' Circular-Weekly.

The Other Way.

"Aren't you afraid that horse will run away with somebody?"

"Friend," said Broncho Bob, "it ain't nothin' in Crimson gulch for a hoss to run away with a man. It's when a man tries to run away with a hoss that there's danger." — Washington Star.

Sorrow of It.

Husband (during the spat)—Anyway, I'm not afraid to say what I think. Wife—No, I suppose not, but you ought to be ashamed to.—Detroit Tribune.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Ex-State Senator J. E. Sugg died suddenly of congestive chill at his home in Grene county Sunday night.

—Mr. C. G. Byrd, of Robeson county, has a field of cotton which rivals Texas, being over ten feet high, well filled with fruit.

—W. M. Hesten, probably the best football player who ever graduated at the University of Michigan, and who played for four years on the football team, has arrived in Raleigh to take up his duties as football coach to the A. and M.

—There is to be a most important meeting in Raleigh on Saturday, and it is expected that this will be largely attended. This is the meeting of the cotton farmers and advices received from all parts of the county are that the mass meeting on Saturday will break all previous records in point of attendance.

—Pet Allan the young white man who has been for some time confined in jail at Wilson for fighting affrays, made a neat escape Sunday morning. It seems that he, with some of the other prisoners, considered as not likely to try to escape, were turned loose in the jail yard, around which is a high wooden wall. The gate was locked, but while the officers were not noticing Allan went around to the back of the fence and climbing over came from the enclosure.

—Charlotte Observer special: Mr. Walter Cook, a middle-aged farmer who lives in the vicinity of Amity, committed suicide this morning by stabbing himself with a knife. It is said that he had been on a debauch for several days and that he had mistreated his wife and children during this time. It is impossible to obtain the particulars of the tragedy but there seems to be something of a mystery connected with it and further investigations may reveal something unexpected. The deceased was a man of good family and leaves a wife and several children.

—"Farmer" Burns worsted Prof. Dwyer in a swift wrestling match at Asheville Monday night. There were scarcely two hundred people in the house but this small bunch of sports apparently derived much pleasure from the event. The feature of the match was Dwyer's superb foot work. After the match Burns complained bitterly of the small house. It is evident that wrestling has about played out in Asheville. Probably twice as many people stood on the street and read the returns from the Gans-Nelson fight as witnessed Burns throw Dwyer.

—News and Observer: Another step forward is promised to the county and was inaugurated Monday when the board of county commissioner determined to hold a bond election in Charlotte on the first Tuesday in November for the purpose of submitting to a vote of the people the question of issuing $250,000 bonds for improvement of public roads and the cancellation of certain indebtedness amounting to about $60,000. The issue is an important one to Mecklenburg, as the two hundred thousand will go to extension and improvement of the public roads, for which the county is already famed.

—Bernie Leonard, a young man, was shot in the forehead and hand Monday afternoon by Mrs. Wesley Holston, at Winston-Salem. He will probably die. Leonard and his brother, after cursing Mrs. Holston and her husband on the street, followed them home. One of the boys was knocked down by Holston as they entered his door. The brothers then pounced upon the old man, knocking him down and were beating him when Mrs. Holten came to her husband's rescue with a pistol, firing every ball in it. Bernie' brother fled when he saw what had happened. Mrs. Holston was not arrested, as the officer held that she was only protecting her own household.

—News and Observer: W. S. Pickler, aged thirty-two years, died suddenly at his home in Salisbury Sunday morning from the effects of apoplexy, which seized him without warning. Mr. Pickler was a valued employe of the Southern Railway Company, having charge of the steam pump system of the road. He left Greensboro Saturday night in apparent good health, but was taken suddenly ill upon reaching home, and died before a physician could reach his side. He leaves a wife and one child. A remarkable fact in connection with his death is that the same was foretold by a palmist here two months ago, who also told of his promotion with the Southern, all of which came true.

—Wilson Times: Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 3: Saturday morning at 2:15 Mr. A. P. Hyman, bookkeeper for Mathews, Weeks & Co., while sitting on a high stool in the office at work was shot from the outside of the building by unknown parties. The ball came through an open window and struck Mr. Hyman in the right side evidently ranging downward in the region of the heart. He only lived a short while after being hit. Two night policemen, fifty yards away, heard the report of the pistol. They hurried to the spot, went into the office and found Mr. Hyman in a dying condition. There is a division of opinion as to how Mr. Hyman was shot, some think that he was shot by some party standing on the ground ontside the window, but the theory adopted by the police, is that he was shot from the top of a moving freight train going North at that hour. As many as four or five men were seen by the police on the top of the train. Telegrams were sent to all stations up the line to Weldon to look out for suspicious parties, but nothing has been heard. Besides the Hyman killing last night, some parties broke in a rear window of the Rocky Mount Saving and Trust Company Bank. Nothing has been missed but a fine 38-calibre pistol and a box of cartridges. The burglars left in the back room of the bank the axe used for breaking in. It is strongly suspected now that the pistol stolen from the Savings Bank is the same that killed Hyman; that the killing was done after the bank had been broken into, and the perpetrators of both deed are the same.

—There passed away on Sunday a noble woman whose name was well known in North Carolina for her work for the memory of the Confederacy and the care of the veterans have made an impression upon the State. This was Mrs. Florence Hill Jones, the beloved wife of Mr. Garland Jones, her death occurring at half after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had been in declining health for the past six months, but the news of her death came as a shock. With her husband she went to Jackson Springs last month in the hope that the change would prove beneficial, but she did not regain her strength. Death came and the funeral was held Monday afternoon from Edenton Street Methodist church. Last Wednesday her condition became critical and absent members of the family had been informed. Mr. Garland Jones, Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas, arrived last Wednesday and the fact that his mother recognized him was a great comfort to him and the family. Mrs. Florence Hill Jones was the daughter of the late Major Daniel S. Hill, a gallant Confederate soldier, and his wife, Mrs. Susan Irwin Hill. She was born in Franklin county, N. C., July 24, 1847, and was educated at the Louisburg Female College. The influence of culture and ante-bellum refinement which surrounded her at this seat of learning and in her home left an indelible impress, and was one of her predominating characteristics. Her love for the Confederate Veterans was unbounded, and her efforts for the amelioration of the condition of the veterans and her labors to perpetuate their great history was unremitting.

ONE OF NATURE'S TOOLS.

How Teazels Are Used In Finishing Different Cloths.

Growing by the wayside you will often see that stately, spiny looking plant, the teazel, but I wonder how many know that it has helped to finish many a piece of cloth they wear.

We are apt to think of a tool as something of man's make, yet here is one of nature's own, and nothing has ever been manufactured to successfully take its place. For ages the teazel has been used for fulling cloth—that is, raising the "nap"—and the manufacturers refer to "nap goods" thus treated as "gigged."

When ripe, the dried spike heads are gathered, packed carefully in bundles and shipped in all directions to factories. The variety mostly used have the extreme end of the spikes hooked or curved backward. This is called "fullers' teazel." These heads form a sort of brush and are attached to a wheel or cylinder which revolves against the surface of the cloth, and these curved spikes catch part of the threads and pull them up, making a fuzzy nap. This is trimmed down and leaves that soft, velvety finish to the cloth. The spikes have strength enough and elasticity, but when they come in contact with a rough place in the cloth they break and so avoid tearing the material. Try as they may, no one has ever been able to invent a tool possessing all of these qualities, so the teazel stands unrivaled for that use. The plant as we see it growing wild looks perhaps at first glance somewhat like a thistle, but it really has a dignity and character all its own. The heads in flower are covered with a fluffy down, lavender or white, and as the blossoms drop spikes appear until later it fairly bristles. The leaves, pointed and spiked, shooting out each side of the stem, meet at the base and form a little basin in which is usually water. So we have the name of the plant from the Greek "dipsacus," meaning thirsty, and many other fanciful ones, such as Venus' cup, Venus' bath, wood or church brooms, gypsy combs, clothier's brush, etc.—St. Nicholas.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Proprietors of New Shoe Store Offer a Prize For Best.

Messrs. Hewlett & Price, proprietors of the new shoe store which they will shortly open on Market street, have hit upon a novel plan for naming the handsome new establishment which they will open sometime during the latter part of this month. They want a name—something appropriate and meaning something, a trade mark, so to speak. For the most suitable name they are willing to pay a price and are open to suggestions from the general public. To the person making the suggestion of the most suitable name for the new establishment together with the meaning of same, they will give to suit either lady or gentleman a fine pair of shoes and slippers. Suggestions may be addressed simply, Hewlett & Price, city, and all replies will be given thoughtful consideration.

MURRAY AND MACK.

Opening Attraction at Academy of Music Next Saturday Night.

Murray and Mack in their new fun incubator, "Around the Town" will be the attraction at the Academy Saturday night, opening the season. It is not necessary to dwell on the merits of these two clever comedians, as they are too well known to the theatre-going public of this city. Their vehicle of merriment is overflowing with new and original musical numbers, beautiful wardrobe, elaborate scenery, in fact a thorough equipment necessary for a first class production. The cast includes The Dainty Soubrette, Miss Gladys Van, Miss Mable Blake, Miss Jessie Williams, the Trecaderre Quartette, who made such a hit last season with the same organization, Walter S. Brower, the Celebrated Pony Ballet, and a large male and female chorus.

The prices for this opening attraction will not be advanced and seats will be on sale Friday at Plummer's.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY.

MR. WILL STOLTER SHOT.

Two Balls Through Fleshy Part of His Arm Last Night.

Mr. Willie Stolter who keeps a grocery and saloon at Eleventh and Market streets, was shot twice in the fleshy part of his arm last night about 10 o'clock at his place of business. The wounds, while quite severe, are not serious. He suffered considerably from the loss of blood before being taken to the hospital and was rather weak afterwards, but otherwise he seemed to be all right.

Mr. Stolter stoutly refuses to say who shot him or how it ocurred and though the police have investigated the affair they seem to have found out nothing. After his wounds were dressed, he returned to his home.

Mayor's Court Yesterday.

Eight or ten cases were disposed of in the Mayor's court yesterday but none was important. Most of the defendants were white and the charge drunkenness. A majority of them were let off with the costs. Rachel Roberts, a woman of frequent appearance in the courts, was sent to the farm for 30 days for being drunk and disorderly.

Stole Basket of Potatoes.

Officer E. Piner early yesterday afternoon on the wharf arrested George Johnson, a negro charged with stealing a basket of Irish potatoes from the brokerage office of Mr. W. A. Whitehead. The negro had secreted the potatoes in a Water street saloon, where they were subsequently recovered. Johnson was locked up for trial to-day.

Touring in an Automobile.

Mr. Boyge, of New York, has recently completed a tour of Northern States in a Reo Touring Car and has arrived in Wilmington to spend a part of the Winter. The auto has been shipped here by steamer and is being kept at Herbst's garage on Second street. Mr. Boyge is an enthusiastic automobilist and will be a guest at the Colonial Inn while he is in the cit.

New Lumber Enterprise.

Mr. J. O. Cobb, who is inspector for the enterprise, informs the Star that Mr. J. T. West, of Petersburg Va., is erecting a lumber mill plant, on Sturgeon's Creek, Brunswick county. The new mill is 3 1-2 miles from Wilmington and will have a mill and dry kiln capacity of 18,000 feet per day.

KITTY'S KISSES

By EPES W. SARGENT

Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas

"It's for charity, Jack," reminded Katherine.

"It has always been said," he retorted, "that charity covers a multitude of sins."

"You are impolite," she scolded. "I am sure you might know that I would not do anything wrong. If I want to sell kisses for a dollar apiece, I don't see why you should object. You have not established a monopoly—yet."

"I don't know that I am particularly anxious to," he said coldly. "What first attracted me to you was the fact that in spite of your popularity not a breath of scandal had ever touched you. Now you purpose selling your caresses at a dollar each for the St. Mark's fund, and you are surprised that I should object."

"Because you should know me well enough to be assured that I would not do such a thing unless I was satisfied that it was proper."

"There may be a divergence of opinion as to the propriety," he said. "I must insist, or"—

"I guess it might as well be 'or,'" she laughed. "When you assume such a tragic pose it shows that you are in need of a lesson."

She held out the ring, and without a word he took it and left the room.

Before he had descended the steps Preston was minded to go back and apologize, but he felt sure that the breaking of the engagement would be a sharper lesson than any argument. Somehow he did not fare well when he argued with Kitty. She never lost her temper, and this always put him at a disadvantage.

The announcement that Katherine Ellicott was to sell her kisses at the St. Mark's fair had its intended effect. Kitty was the undisputed belle of her circle, and more than one unfortunate swain wondered why she did not demand at least $5. There were many who thought it would be well worth more than that to kiss Kitty.

The fact that it was rumored that Thurman Preston had broken his engagement because Kitty had refused to withdraw her offer added to the interest, and long before the fair was opened Kitty's kisses were the talk of the town.

Thurman had not meant to attend, but somehow he could not stay away. For one thing there was always the hope that Kitty might repent even at the eleventh hour, but Preston knew Kitty too well to believe that she would give up now.

He was one of the first to put in an appearance, and as he entered almost his first glance fell upon a curtained recess over the entrance to which was a sign reading:

KISS, BUT DON'T TELL.

It was bad enough to think of Kitty kissing all who were willing to pay a dollar, but that curtained room was the last straw. He stationed himself beside the booth and presently Kitty appeared.

"You don't mean to say that you are going to be my first customer?" she gasped. "That would spoil it all. I shan't let you in yet."

"I have no desire to patronize this feature," he said icily. "My aid shall be given in a more seemly manner."

"Mrs. McEwan has charge of the booth where bachelor luxuries are set forth. There are some stunning sofa cushions and smoking jackets. Do you know her, or shall I introduce you?"

"I have sent in a check," he said. "If I annoy you here I shall be glad to take my departure."

He moved on, but it was hard to keep away from the spot, and presently he found himself again in the vicinity of the booth.

In the meantime a crowd had gathered, and each seemed to be waiting sheepishly for some one to break the ice. It was several minutes before Tom Meeker paid his dollar and passed through the curtains to an accompaniment of advice from those less bold. There was a strained silence for a moment, then a man's laugh, and a second later Meeker appeared.

"Did you get in, Tom?" demanded some one.

"I can prove it to you," he laughed, "only I promised not to tell. Better go in and see for yourself."

The inquirer paid up his dollar and went in, and presently they were crowding about the booth. Preston moved away. He could not stand there and see the men crowding up to pay for the privilege of kissing the girl he loved, and he realized for the first time now that he still did love Kitty and that she was breaking his heart.

Several times he sought to leave, but each time something held him back, and he made his dismal rounds of the hall, now making a purchase at some stall, now rousing himself with a start to realize that he had drifted back to the vicinity of the booth.

He knew that he was the subject of almost as much comment as was Kitty herself, and he resented the remarks he knew were being made, but he could not leave, nor could he gain the courage to approach the booth.

It was not until well toward the close of the evening that Tom Meeker ran across him. "Had your kiss yet?" he demanded. "Say, it's great, isn't it?"

"I have no desire to purchase caresses," said Preston stiffly.

Meeker looked up in surprise.

"You can't afford to miss this," he said. "I'll stand treat. Come on."

Preston resisted, but Meeker was a giant in strength and fairly dragged him across the hall to the booth. The crowd had dropped away, for most of the visitors had paid their dollar, but there were still a number about as Meeker came up with his victim.

"Thur Preston's going to get his," he announced cheerfully. "He says he's opposed to kissing, but I'm going to stand treat." He threw a dollar on the table and pushed Preston through the curtains.

Kitty greeted him with a smile. "Come for your kiss?" she asked briskly. "I thought you couldn't stay away."

"I had no desire to come," he said severely. "That young fool Meeker insisted upon making an ass of himself by forcing my presence."

"Now, that's too bad that you should be compelled to let another man pay for your kiss," she laughed. "I had hoped that I would get a dollar from you."

Preston regarded her curiously. She had caught up a tiny jar and was rubbing some red paste upon her lips. "How will you have yours," she demanded, "full or cornerwise?"

"I tell you I don't want any," he insisted.

"You've got to have one," she laughed. "Since you have no choice I'll give you a full face."

She caught up a card and pressed it to her lips, leaving an indistinct reddish imprint. "You must not tell any one the joke," she commanded. "There are still some I have not sold yet. It's the latest English fad, you know, but it's not half so bad as it sounds."

"Why did you let me make such a fool of myself?" he cried.

"You needed a lesson," explained Kitty. "I think it was good for you to worry a little. Now, if you'll give me a ring I'll give you a real kiss."

He handed her the ring and she offered her lips. He started back. "You'll have to take that red stuff off," he suggested.

Kitty smiled up at him. "Don't you want to turn the laugh on Tom Meeker?" she suggested. "It will serve to announce our re-engagement."

"Put it on thick," he urged.

No Pleasure Trips For Them.

An amusing scene was witnessed one day last summer in a country town. An old lady, with her coachman, drove up in a large brake and stopped opposite a huge red brick building.

Her ring was answered by an official in uniform.

"I am come," she began, "to take the inmates for a picnic in the green fields and flowery meadows. It's a beautiful day, and it will do them a world of good, cooped up as they are in this building day after day."

The official gasped for breath. Never in all his long experience had he heard such a cool request. He simply gazed at her in astonishment.

"They can't come, madam," was all he could utter.

"Yes, they can. Let them all come—every one of them."

"We never let them out," he added in a hoarse whisper.

"Oh, yes, you do! I met two of the dear old men just now in their long smock frocks."

A whole flood of light suddenly burst upon the astonished attendant. He saw everything clearly now.

"Ah, I see!" replied he. "You want the workhouse. It's just around the corner. This is the county jail."—London Graphic.

Fletch D. Proctor, republica candidate for governor of Vermont at 9. p. m., last night declared that the returns received up to that hour indicates his election by an overwhelming majority.

WARRANTS FOR BANK WRECKERS

Officials of Real Estate Trust Compahy Charged With Conspiring to Loot

AMPLE PROOF OBTAINED

Segal Borrowed $5,000,00 From Bank on Flimsy Collateral—Investigation Diclosed That Hipple was a Partner, With Segal

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, September 4.—District Attorney Bell is authority for the statement that warrants were prepared tonight for the arrest of William F. North the treasurer of the Real Estate Trust Company, M. S. Collingwood, assistant treasurer and Adolf Segal on charge of conspiring with Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the institution to loot its treasury. Segal is the promoter who borrowed more than $5,000,000 from the bank on flimsy collateral to finance his enterprises. Horace Hill the aged auditor, will not be arrested.

He is 75 years old and broken in health. The district attorney says he was a figurehead and a tool used by the looters.

Public interest in the investigation in the defunct Real Estate Trust company's affairs now centers in the warrants which District Attorney Bell says will be issued either tomorrow or Thursday for the arrest of the men implicated with Frank K. Hipple the suicide president, in looting and wrecking the institution. Abundant evidence of the cupidity of the others besides the dead president has been obtained, the district attorney says. Asked to name the persons against whom he intended to proceed Mr. Bell declined, but said he believed, in view of the developments that the public could pick out the men.

Two of the most prominent figures in the investigation appeared before District Attorney Bell and were interrogated by him. They were William F. North, treasurer of the trust company and Horace Hill, the auditor, Mr. Hill who is an aged man was on the verge of collapse when he arrived at the bank and nervously inquired of the newspaper reporters assembled outside as to why the district attorney should send for him. Neither he nor the Treasurer, North, would consent to be interviewed.

Receiver Earle announced today that Adolf Segal, the promoter whose extensive borrowings were mainly responsible for the failure of the trust company had turned over his entire interest in the Pennsylvania sugar refinery. The plant is heavily encumbered, however and Segal's interest will be of little benefit to the depositors.

The investigation of Receiver Earle and District Attorney Bell has established the fact that Presiden Hipple was a partner with Segal in a number of the latter's enterprise and that F. Wharton Hipple, his son, who was a clerk in the bank was a dummy for his father.

CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA.

Governor's Daughter to Christen Vessel—Wine Will Be Used.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 3.—Governor Glenn returned this morning from Washington, where he went to make an effort to have the christening of the new armored cruiser North Carolina take place at Wilmington instead of Newport News. He says that he found after conference with the authorities that it would be impossible to have this change made, so that the ceremony will take place as originally announced at Newport News, October 6.

He has also agreed while he was in Washington that the Governor's daughter, Miss Rebekah Glenn, will be the sponsor. There had been some talk through the State of having water instead of wine used for the christening, but the department ruled the usual custom of using wine must be adhered to.

Governor Glenn had expected to spend today in Marietta for the purpose of delivering an address there, but he missed the connection at Blacksburg and had to give up that part of this trip.—Industrial News.

Georgia Democrats.

Macon, Ga. September 4.—The unanimus nomination of Hoke Smith for governor of Georgia and the endoreement of William J. Bryan for President in 1908 was the principal business transacted today by the Democratic state convention. The names of other candidates for governor were not placed before the convention.

The platform adopted contains many radical recommendations and substitutes the majority vote in primaries for nominating conventions in gubernatorial contests. The state railroad commision is severely criticised, while two cent railroad fares, state railroad cotrol, ower freight rates, egro dis franchisement and increase in the size of the state senate are demanded.

SEIZED BY MEXICANS.

Fishing Smack Captured Within Three Mile Limit.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 5.—A cablegram has been received by Manager J. W. Munn, of the Gulf Fisheries Company, of this city from the captain of their smack Aloah, which states that his vessel was seized by the Mexican transport Progresso, while lying at anchor becalmed, closed to Arenas reef. The captain states that he and his men are in friendly hands.

Since the seizure of three smacks some time ago, Americans have continued to fish in the same localities, but have carefully observed the three mile limit set by Secretary Root as free water for all fishermen. The aloah, the captain states, had become becalmed andd rifted within one and a half miles of the shore. The anchor was dropped to await sufficient wind to move the smack to the fishing grounds, but at this juncture the Mexican vessel came up.

Manager Mun notified the State Department of the seizure.

CANNON IN MAINE.

National Politics and Labor Theme of His Spech.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Norway, Me., Sept. 4.—Speaker Jos. J. Cannon in an address before a large audience in the opera house here this afternoon omitted state issues and announced that he had come to Maine to help elect a republican house of representatives and secure the endorsement of President oRosevelt. Aside ment of National politics, labor was the theme of his speech. He termed Mr. Bryan one of the set of professional politicians who never labored in the mills or factories.

He criticised Samuel Gompers for giving out a statement that Representative Littlefield will be defeated and added: "God bless the Australian ballot whereby the laboring men may vote as they please. Samuel Gompers by the grace of God, these very laborers next Monday will put their foot on your proposition because it is undemocratic and because it is not according to the principles of your labor organization."

WARM WIRELETS.

By direction of the President, Lieutenant Edward H. Dunn, U. S.N., was yesterday dismissed from the service of the United States. Lieutenant Dunn was attached to the receiving ship Independence at the Mare Island (California) navy yard and was recently convicted by court martial of scandalous conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline and sentenced to dismissal.

As the result of a quarrel caused by a dispute over the Gans-Nelson fight, Joseph Lynch, 28 years old, was kicked on the head and killed, it is alleged by a companion with whom he had been drinking. John Conderoy, 40 years, old, is under arrest charged with the murder. The tragedy took place at a hotel about a mile west of Gasport yesterday.

Cleveland, O. two children lost their lives and their mother was badly burned and is in a critical condition as a result of a fire playfully started by the children in a dogshed in west 48th street yesterday afternoon. Peter and John Quinn, little brothers, were burned to death in the place in which they had locked themselves in to hide from other children of the family. The mother heard their cries and received her injuries in an effort succor them.

Lieutenant Colonel James S. Pettit, eight infantry, died at hos residence in Washington yesterday. He had been in ill health for a number of years.. He was appointed a cadet at West Point fro Ohio on 1874. He made a good record as an officer during the Spanish war, being colonel of the fourth immune regiment and afterward became colonel o one o the volunteer regiments raised or service in the Philippines. TO ENFORCE THE PURE FOOD LAW

The Department of Agriculture Making Preparations for the Equipment Needed

GOES INTO EFFECT JANUARY 1

Laboratories Required at Ports of New York and Boston—All Money Necessary for Enforcement of Law Will be Supplied

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—As the result of the new pure food law, which goes into effect January 1, next the Department of Agriculture is making preparations for the increased labor and equipment involved in its enforcement. The working forces and the apliances of the laboratories at Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore and New Orleans will be largely increased, while at the ports of New York and Boston there will be erected new laboratories in which to conduct the necessary examinations of all food products coming into this country. Plans for these latter building have been approved by Dr. Wiley chief of the bureau of chemistry and Secretary Wilson doubtless will coincide with the ideas of Dr. Wiley. There is no money available for the construction of these buildings, but the Secretary of Agriculture has been assured that it will be forthcoming at the next session of Congress.

Furthermore assurances have been given that the money necessary to execute the pure food law, through the employment of inspectors and the necessary clerical forces will be provided.

THE CUBAN SITUATION.

Great Apprehension Felt Over Spread of Revolutionary Sentiment.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Havana, Sept. 4.—As days and weeks pass with no appreciable diminution of the revolution, apprehension increases. The most conservative testimony from the country districts of the provinces of Pinar Del Rrio, Havan and Santa Ciara is to the effect that two-thirds of the people in the country and small towns of these three provinces are insurgents in sentiment if not in fact. It is generally believed that the government ultimately will subdue the insurrection, but in the meanwhile the crops cannot be developed and it is a grave question whether the rebellious spirit even then can be actually quelled to the extent of restoring the country to a normal self governing status. The realization of this is the calse of the rnewkal of the restoration of peace. General Marcio Menocal whom the people trust as capable of bringing the warring factions together if such a thing is possible, came to Havana today and held two conferences with President Palma. General Menocal, refused to make any statement as to their nature.

For the Campaign

All Democrats Looking to Him to Lead to Victory in 1908

The Democrats of all sections of the United States are turning to Bryan to lead the Democratic victory in 1908. The News and Observer in State and National politics has always stood as the advocate of the same principles which have made Bryan the national leader.
Every Democrat in North Carolina ought to read the true Democratic doctrine every day until the November election. The News and Observer preaches that doctrine, and it prints all the news. The best evidence that it is a fine newspaper is that in eleven years its circulation has grown from 2,500 to over 11,000. Send one dollar and get it daily until the November election. Address

PRISON LIFE OF HARRY K. SHAW

(Chattanooga Times.)

At best the outlook to Harry Thaw seems very gloomy, says a New York letter. The young man is beginning to fret over his long imprisonment. He believes that the circumstances of his case are such as to entitle him to a speedy hearing, as he is anxious that his full story and that of his pretty young artist-model wife may be given to the public to judge as between him and the man whose life he took. It has never occurred to Thaw that he might be convicted. So sublime and implicit is his faith in hos own cause that he seems never to suffer a pang of remorse. In uttef unconsciousness, apparently, of the seriousness of his plight, he rails at the district attorney for denying him his freedom. The heat of the prison stifles him, and he cannot conceive the kind of inhumanity it is that actuates the State in not providing electric fans and a bath in every cell.

It has been published that Thaw enjoys special priviliges in prison. The Tombs keepers have so far shown him no more consideration than the ordinary criminal.

His imprisonment has been a bitter experience for Thaw—more bitter than that of the ordinary occupant of a cell on murderer's row.

For many hours at a time Thaw sits at the door of his cell, peering out into space and perhaps recalling the reckless happiness of other Summers that are gone. At other times he reads the newspapers. This is now his passion, for he takes extraordinary pleasure in reading about his own case. He wants every edition of every paper, and they are brought to him in sets of ten or a dozen at a time. It has nettled the young prisoner quite keenly during the past few weeks that the papers should be devoting so little space to his cause. After scanning the various editions for any news bearing upon his own case, Thaw turns generally to the sporting pages and to the racing charts. He finds delight in discussing the horses with any of the prison attendants who may be near, and he has found some of them who are great followers of the ponies. Thaw argues with them as to chances of certain of the thoroughbreds to win and makes his selections and waits for the results with as much eagerness as though he were at the race track himself and betting thousands of dollars on the horses he fancies. This is his one amusement.

On week days his wife always visits him, and the two have lively chats together. Thaw seems as deeply devoted as at any time during their acquaintance, while she apparently reciprocates his affection warmly. The prisoner takes two exercise walks about the prison yard each day in an effort to keep in good physical condition, although the confinement and hot weather have pulled him down considerably.

On Sundays Thaw usually attends the religious services conducted by the Protestant chaplains. He listen solemnly and attentively to all that is said. He has all the bulky Sunday papers in his cell and managers to get through the rest of the Sabbath by poring over these.

Kidney Trouble Attack Wilmington Men and Women, Old and Young Alike.

Kidney ills seize young and old alike—
Quickly come and little warning give.
Children suffer in their early years—
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Robust men have lame anda ching backs.
Old folks, weak, rheumatic, lame,
Endure distressing urinary ills.
The cure for man, for woman, or for child
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys
Cure all the varied forms of kidney suffering.
Wilmington testimony guarantees every box.

J. T. Ebert of 515 South 6th st., mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brick-dust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she had improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and in fact Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

There is
No Good Reason Against Good Insurance

Nor any substitute for it. Wherever failure to live means financial loss, there is call for Insurance. Is your life of financial value to another—your family, partners or business? If so, Life Insurance deserves your attention, and deserves it now. Your forethought will be better than their afterthought. ¶ When it comes to the best kind of Life Insurance, men do not all think alike. There is no desirable kind that cannot be obtained from THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. This is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in America, and the largest and staunchest in the world. It is a Mutual Company. It has no stockholders. Its assets belong to its policy-holders. It has paid them dividends continuously for fifty-six years. Taking its history through,

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

has done as well for its policy-holders as any company. It should have done better, as has recently been shown. Under the present management all policy-holders may expect unusually favorable results. This is made reasonable by the facts that it is a strictly Mutual Company, operated under New York laws, which are now the best in the world; that its great volume of business means smaller share of expense on each policy, and that the new methods and economies, which are now a part of its constitution, will save immense sums which must go to the policy-holders, as the only proper place. ¶ Mr. Charles E. Hughes, who became famous by conducting the investigation of the Legislative Committee, and who speaks with authority, has recently said: "We have had great companies exposed to close and unsparing analysis, only to find that their solidity was as the rock of Gibraltar. I would rather take insurance in a New York company compelled to transact business under these restrictions, than in any company not so restricted, and I believe that will be the sentiment of the people of these United States."

¶ If you would like to know for yourself the latest phases of Life Insurance, or wish information concerning any form of policy, consult our nearest agent or write direct to

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, September 4.—The cotton market was moderately active and generally steady to firm during the day's session with the close steady at a net advance of 7 to 16 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 300,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 2 points or just about as due on the cables, which rallied quite sharply this morning after declining on Monday when American markets were closed. Trading was quite active on the call and the market advanced on covering of shorts and support from local bulls who were encouraged by the talk of heavy rains in Texas over the holidays and less favorable crop reports from that State and the Mississippi Valley. After an advance of 9 to 10 points there was a slight reaction due to realizing but the market continued steady in tone and later sold up to 9.00 for October; 9.21 for December and 9.29 for January or 18 to 20 points net higher, with local shorts and some of the bulish room traders the best buyers. Toward the close there was irregularity as a result of realizing and last prices were a few points off from the best. The detailed weather reports received late in the day showed rains ranging from about an inch to 3 1-2 inches at several points in Texas.

Receipts cotton at the ports today 13,481 bales against 18,760 last week and 39,735 last year. For the week 90,00 bales against 74,775 bales last week and 157,903 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 961 bales against 1,800 last year, and at Houston 12,550 bales against 12,825 last year.

Spot quiet, 2 points higher; middling uplands, 90.90; midding gulf 10.15; sales 700 bales.

Futures closed steady. Prices ranged as follows:

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

Chocago, Sept. 14—Excellent weather in the northwest for harvesting was the chief cause of weakness in the local wheat market today. At the close wheat for December delivery was down 5-8@3-4c. Corn was down 1-2@5-8. Oats showed a loss of 1-4. Provisions were unchanged to 7 1-2@10 lower.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Sept. 4.—The wholesale drygoods district was more or less quiet after the holiday. Seasonable weather is having its effect in starting the real Fall trade off briskly and the reflection of activity at home is seen in the activity of the jobbing trade and the large number of buyers here. Initial business in men's wear is over and worsted mills are well sold up. Dress goods are selling larger than a year ago in both woolens and worsteds.

Well Worth Trying.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "they keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Billiousness. 25c. Guaranteed by all druggists. **

The Breath of Life.

It is a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the strongest lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

AGAINST THE COTTON SEED TRUST

Cotton Growers in Texas Decide to Break Grip of the Combine in Purchasing of Seed.

(New Orleans Picayune.)

Houston, Tex., Sept. 1.—Many of the cotton growers of the State, and especialy those whose belong to the Farmers Union, have decided to make an effort to break the grip of the cotton seed oil combine in the purchasing of seed. They have announced that they will not sell their seeds below a price to be fixed by the National Farmers' Union to be held at Texarkana, and it is expected that this minimum will be placed at about $12.50 per ton.

There is a very wide divergeance in the price paid for oil by the mills. In some sections of the State where there is active competition and where the mills do not own the gins the price will go to $14 and $15 per ton; in other sections, sometimes close to those where the high price is paid, the seed will not be bought for more than $9 per ton from the independent farmer who sells his own seed instead of permitting the ginner to take them as toll for ginning.

It has become the custom for mills to own and operate gins and thus control the sale of seed. In those sections the price is low, and the mills get their full supply at a figure much below what the independent mills without gin attachments have to pay. Generally when the gin owns the mills in a neighborhood they refuse to gin cotton unless they get the seed for toll for the ginning. It takes about 1,500 pounds of seed cotton to a 500-pound bale of lint, leaving 1,000 pounds of seed. The general price for ginning is 50 cents per 100 pounds so that the seed at $4.50 per ton will more than half pay the ginning tolls, and in the past most farmers have thought they were doing well to make the trade. In this way the oil mills have had a cinch in getting their seed at the lowest possible price, and the growers are just waking up to the fact that the mills supply seed to each other in order to keep the price from getting too high in certain communities.

The Mouse and the Rabbit.

A mouse endeavored to convince a rabbit of the advantage of wearing a long tail.

"You," said he, "are not admitted to the best society, like myself, and I do not doubt this is the sole reason. Certainly a long tail does give one an air."

While the two friends were arguing a kite swooped down upon them, and each betook himself to his hiding place. The rabbit was fairly hidden, but the mouse was easily discovered and drawn from his place of refuge, into which he had not time to draw his boasted badge of society. As the kite bore off his prey the rabbit remarked quietly, "My friend, the mouse, would have been better off had he not been quite so distinguished."

Human Oddities.

A person's eyes are out of line in two cases out of five, and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right is also, as a rule, higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair haired people. The smallest vibration of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest, while that of the thumb grows slowest. In fifty-four cases out of a hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.

Freezing Food Before Eating.

In nearly all parts of the arctic regions food is frozen not only for purposes of preservation, but also to increase, as the natives believe, its nutritive properties. Their fish and seal flesh are frozen and eaten in thin slices cut off by ax or knife. Seal flesh half decomposed and then frozen is one of the Eskimos' greatest delicacies. Walrus liver, too, when frozen is held to possess great sustaining power, and it is considered that cooking deprives it of its delicacy of flavor. The natives of the Titicaca basin, in Peru, who inhabit a district 12,000 feet above the sea, prepare their potatoes by soaking them in water, then freezing them, then steeping them in water and mashing them to remove the soluble matter. After this they are dried and become an article of food. They will then keep any length of time and are extremely convenient for carrying on long journeys. The oka, another vegetable of the district, is prepared in the same way.

The Jersey Cow.

The Jersey cow is a small animal, and therefore her maintenance ration is small, while a relatively large part of her food goes to profit. She is a persistent milker, often a perpetual milker, and ordinarily not dry more than six or eight weeks in a year. She has an extremely long period of usefulness in the dairy. Five years cover the profitable work of the average cow. The Jersey produces until fifteen years old. Many are profitable when eighteen to twenty-one years of age.—Farmer.

TO BRING THE FUGITIVE BACK

Want Warships to convey Paul Of Stendland from Morocco to the Unted States.

PETITION TO THE PRESILENT

Moroccan Government Under No Obligations to Surrender the Bank Wrecker, as There is no Extradition Treaty.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, September 4.—Assistant States Attorney Barbour today made a demand on the United States government for a warshop in which to bring Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive banker, now under arrest in Tangier, back to this country.

The request was today sent by Mr. Barbour to Governor Deneen following a series of communications between the governor and Acting Secretary of State Adee at Washington. Mr. Barbour urged the seeming peril of bringing Stensland across foreign countries where the prisoner might suddenly balk at the prospect of returning to the United States. Moreover, Mr. Barbour fears that Stensland may kill himself, and poonts out the advisability of having Stensland brought to this country as a federal prisoner on board of a warship.

Attorney General Stead and Assistant States' Attorney Barnett, were busy today preparing a petition to Presiden Roosevelt asking him to see that the government of Morocco was asked to turn the prisoner over to the United States authorities without trouble. This petition will be sent to Washingon along wih other documents, including the bench warrants for the arrest of Stensland.

Governor Deneen today received the following telegram from Acting Secretary of State Adee:

"There is no extradition treay with Morocco. Do you wish us to request the Sultan to render us Stensland as a friendly act on evidence shown of his guilt."

Washington, September 4.—The State Department was without advices today from Mr. Gummere,, American minister to Morocco, who had been cabled to ascertain whether the Sultan would surrender Stensland upon proof of his guilt and in the absence of any extradition agreement. The Moroccan government is not under any obligations to place Stensland in the custody of this government except that demanded by courtesy an obligation that has no lawful existence, but which is no stranger to diplomatic negotiations.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Registered as J. Jones, U. S.—Supposed to be from Richmond.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Halifax, N. S., September 4.—A man who had registered as J. I. Jones, United States, and who is thought to have come from iRchmond, Va., was found dead in his room at the Halifax Hotel today with a bullet hole in his head and revolver clutched in his right hand. The medical examiner reported the case one of suicide. The man had been at the hotel for two weeks. He was about forty years of age.

Later the name of Wiliam Archer, of Richmond, Va., was found on a telegraph blank in the man's room. The police have communicated with the Richmond authorities.

Richmond, Va., September 4.—William Michaux Archer, who committed suicide in Halifax, Nova Scotia, today, was well known in this city where he was born about twenty-two years ago.

He was the son of W. S. Archer, of Rochmond, unmarried. He had been away from his home about six months, and was in bad health, which is presumed to have been the cause of his taking his own life. His body will be brought here for burial.

ARRESTED IN DANVILLE.

Henry Kimball Charged With Sealing Purse.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Danville, Va., Sept. 3.—Henry Kimball, a young white man, whose home is supposed to be in Greensboro, N. C., was arraigned in the mayor's court this morning on the charge of stealing a purse containing about $25 belonging to Mrs. J. H. Jenkins, of Jacksonville, Fla. The case was continued to give Kimball time to summon some witnesses he desired to testify in his behalf.

The robbery was committed Thursday night last at the Southern Railway station where Mrs. Jenkins and her husband were awaiting a train. The woman was in the ladies' waiting room, and left her purse on the table. During her absence of a few minutes it was stolen. Kimball, it is alleged, had been seen in the room and was arrested for the crime. He protests that he is innocent.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins have been travelling throughout the country, the former being in bad health. They were en route home, but on account of the robbery will have to remain over several days to await funds.—Industrial News.

MR. BRYAN'S ADDRESS TO JEFFERSON CLUB

Takes Opportunity to Bring Forward the Sullivan Incident and Insists that He Is Unfit to Be on the National Democratic Committee.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Chicago, September 4.—The following is an abstract of the address of William J. Bryan delivered before the Jefferson Club tonight:

In opening his address Mr. Bryan said:

"The honesty of a party's purpose is shown not merely by its platform or the speeches of its candidates and supporters but by the character of the men who are intrusted with the party management.

"Illinois presents a case in point, and I take the opportunity to state my position in regard to the commotteeman, Roger Sullivan. As you all know I wrote him a letter asking him to resign from the national committee in the interest ofthe democratic party I explained to him that his corporate connections made it impossible for him to help the party so long as he was on official position, but stated that were that the only objection the matter might be dealt with at the State convention two years hence. I pointed out to him that as he held his seat by fraud, there could be no harmony in the democratic party in the State until he, by resigning, showed his respect for the wishes of the majority at the last State convention. Instead of resigning he asked for an endorsement from the State convention. He charged that I was deceived by Mr. Dunlap. The charge was so obviously untrue that it ought not to have deceived any one

"At the national convention in St. Louis I had in writing a request for his repudiation signed by more than half of the delegates to the State convention. Had Mr. Sullivan any of the instincts of a democrat. had he the first conception of what democracy means, he would not have consented to hold his place against the wishes of the convention At the recent State convention the delegates although they did not vote directly on the question to ask his resignation voted to table the resolution and that may be accepted as a vote of endorsement. This gives him his position for two years more.

"The question now is what can the democracy of Illinois do to register its protest against the kind of politics for whoch Mr. Sullivan stands. That is the question in which I as a democrat am interested for the question which arises in Illinois will arise in all the other States where the corporations attempt to obtain control of the party organization.

"I hold hat no man who is officially connected with a corporation, that is seeking privileges ought to act as a member of a political organization because he cannot represent his corporation and the people at the same time. I am opposed to allowong a man situated as he is to use the public treasury to pay the debts that he owes to those who help his corporation to take advantage of the public and therefore I insist that the fight should be commenced today to prevent his reelection to the national committee.

'And what I say of him, I say of aspirants for positions in the party organization in other states. If the democrats has not virtue enough to spurn those who traffic the politics for the advantage of the corporatins to which they belong, it does not deserve victory nor can it hope for it.

"If you say that I have no right to interfere in the politics of this state, I reply that I am simply applying to Illnois a principle which I believe ought to be applied universally. I do not regard it as a compliment to be endorsed for the presidency by a convention which endorsed Mr. Sullovan. I told them in advance that I did not want a endorsement under such circum stance, and I repudiate it If my nomination for any office depended upon that endorsemet, I would not accept it.

"Mr. Sullivan is not a friend although he pretended to be before this discussion arose He would not have allowed me to be endorsed if he could have prevented it, but instead of opposing me like a man, he attempted to link his name with mine and thus secure an endorsement for himself. I object to him as a political associate. He is an able man, a clever man, and personally a very genial fellow; the ccrporations could not afford to employ any other kind to do their political work. but my only political asset is the confidence that the people have in my sincerity, and I do not want that shattered by ontimacy with a man of his political methods Those who voted to endorse me were either deceived; if they thought to deceive me, could deceive me. If they were deceived, they will be glad to be undeceived; if the ythought to deceive me, they will have more respect for me when they find that they did not succeed.

"I suggest that every candidate for office who wants the people to have confidence in him, should announce that he is opposed to Mr. Sullivan's methods that he repudiate his leadership, and oppose his re-election."

Ownership of Railroads.

In his afternoon address Mr. Bryan said regardong his recent utterances in New York on governmet ownership of railways:

"I stated what I thought with the expectation that everybody else would exercise the same freedom. I was led to my conclusion by the corruption of the people of the United States by the railroads. In my judgement we have had no more corrupting influence than the railroads. I have known coventions to be controlled by passes. I have kown judges to be elected by railroads and I have reached the conclusion that this corruption cannot be eliminated until those natural monopolies become the property of the government. I am opposed to centralization and therefore I prefer that we should have the local lines owned by state governments and only the trunk lones owned by the federal government."

REVENUE OFFICERS ON TRIAL

Charged With Being in Collusion With Illicit Distillers.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Greensboro, N. C. September 4.—A special term of the United States district court for the trial of the famous revenue fraud cases convened here this morning with Judge James E. Boyd presiding. The case against R. H. Harding, former deputy collector was taken up and will probably consume all of this week. There are thirty or more revenue officers, distillers and guagers named in the bill of indictment. Two of them have already been convicted and the cases were carried to the court of appeals. Indictments were found as a resut of investigation adopted by the secret service men. It is suggested that the revenue collectors were paid "hush" money by illicit distillers.

The officers are charged with making false returns, in that they reported illicit distilleries destroyed when they were left untouched.

"PEACE REIGNS IN WARSAW."

Wholesale Arrests and Killing the Order of the Day .

Warsaw, September 4.—Soldiers this afternoon occupied the Salsin Garden which was crowded with nurses and children, and arrested 200 persons who were without passports. The incident caused tremendous excitement. There are general indications that terrorists in large numbers have left Warsay for the purpose of terrorizing the country districts. Governor General Skallon accordingly has ordered the return to the country of police who had been brought into the town leaving the country districts comparatively unprotected.

The wholesale searches which have been made here have resulted in complete failure.

Soldiers last night killed four citizens and made wholesale arrests in different parts of the town.

A boy who was being pursued by soldiers, jumped into the Vistula and was killed while trying to escape by swimming.

MIILLIONAIRE DEAD.

Herman Oelirch Passsed Away on Return Trip from Europe.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 4.—The steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse which arrived today from Bremen, came into port with colors at half mast because of the death of Herman Oelrichs, the well known millionaire club man, on board on Saturday last. Mr. Oelrichs died at 8 o'clock in he evening.

The cause of death was Bright's disease. Mr. Oelrichs was in poor health for a long time and was so ill when he embarked that he was advised not to sail. He was conscious throughout and spoke intelligibly to his servant only a half hour before the end. On the day he sailed he cabled congratulations to his brother Charles, that being the latter's birthday. He also asked his brother to meet him with a carriage at Hoboken.

NORTH CAROLINA EXHIBIT.

Jamestown Commission Meets—Big Excursion Faycttevillle to Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 4.—A quorum of the membership of the North Carolina Commission for the Jamestown Exposition met in the Governor's office to-day and discussed the situation with the result that organization was deferred until September 11th, when the Commission will meet with Governor Glenn at the Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, Va., for a conference with the manager. There such steps as at the time may seem advisable will be taken as to North Carolina representation in the Exposition.

Fayetteville spent to-day in Raleigh. An excursion arrived over the Raland Southport, bringing the visitors who were given free course of the State House and other State buildings. They seemed to enjoy the day throughly and returned at six o'clock.

SENSATIONAL TALE TOLD BY GANS

Says He Was Offered $25,000 to Let Nelson Win the Fight Monday Night

THE BOUT WITNESSED bY 7,000

The Recepits for the Fight Amounted to Appoxibately $78,000,—Dizziness of Nelson Put Forth as Excuse for His Fouling

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Goldfield, Nev., September 4.—Neither Gans or Nelson was stirring this morning, though Gans probably will come in from Columbia later in the day. Nelson is so badly battered that he will stay in doors until he can leave town.

Gans goes to San Francisco in a few days to consider a theatrical engagement. With the exception of Nelson's party not a dissenting voice has been heard about the decision awarding yesterday's fight to Gans on a foul. Even losers in betting make no complaint and numbers of them called on Gans after the fight ad congratulated him. Gans says that he was offered $25,000 to let Nelson win. He would not say who made the offer.

The films of the moving pictures became exhausted after the 38th round of the Gans-Nelson fight. As a result the concluding rounds will not be shown in the pictures.

President Rickard stated that the receipts for the fight amounted to approximately $78,000 and that the number of spectators at the ring side aggregated 7,000. This is the greatest amount of money taken in for a prize fight in the history of the ring. One of Nelson's seconds stated today that Nelson was dizzy when he was called for the forty-second round and this may have had something to do with the fouling of Gans.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
